Jack's Helping Hand

Jack's Helping Hand was created to carry on the memory of one small boy, Jack Tompkins Ready, who won over many hearts within our community during his three-year struggle with a rare form of brain cancer. His parents, Paul and Bridget Ready, recognized the need in our community for an organization to help children with illnesses and disabilities and their families obtain special services, and meet their unique needs which were not being addressed by other agencies.

Jack's Helping Hand was instrumental in creating the updated Jack Ready Memorial Therapy Room at California Children's Services. This facility offers a variety of therapeutic opportunities that allow special-needs children the chance to realize their potential. Through Jack's Helping Hand and generous donations from the community, specialized equipment has been purchased, fabricated, and maintained to further assist our special-needs children in successfully reaching their goals.

Jack's Helping Hand also fulfills requests for assistance with medical treatments, equipment, services, transportation, and lodging when there are no other sources to cover these needs, and when these necessities exceed family financial capabilities. Individuals must apply to receive benefits and be referred by a professional (i.e.: Physician, Physical Therapist, or Occupational Therapist). Jack's Helping Hand provides gift cards for food and fuel and arranges for lodging. Equipment and medical expenses are paid directly to vendors. No outright cash distributions to individuals or families are made.

In 2005, approximately 30 acres of land in Nipomo were generously donated to the County of San Luis Obispo by the Nick and Kathy Tompkins family to establish a park in memory of Jack. The Jack Ready Imagination Park will be a special place that allows children with disabilities to play alongside their peers while also providing a fun and relaxing experience for the entire family, including adults with special needs. The Equestrian Center was completed in 2021. The twelve-stall horse barn, caretaker's quarters and classroom, hay barn, storage facility, horse arena, and round training pen are being utilized for our Little Riders program. The universally accessible playground equipment was ordered this past spring, with delivery and installation scheduled for January 2027. This specialty equipment will allow for children of all abilities to play together barrier-free. The final phase will include basketball and volleyball courts, playing fields, accessible walking trails, and picnic areas.

Jack's Helping Hand continues to operate adaptive toy lending libraries, now in conjunction with California Children's Services Medical Therapy Units throughout the County. Adapted toys are expensive, and like all children, our special children need new ones to keep their interest and motivate them to play. Our lending libraries provide these toys for our children, just like checking out a book at the regular library, free of charge. Through Jack's Toy Box, in collaboration with the San Luis Obispo County Office of Education, we also deliver boxes of fun educational toys to children throughout our community who are experiencing developmental delays or disabilities. Each box contains a variety of toys and books, which are chosen by specialists, to best suit each individual child's needs.

Our Little Swimmers and Water Warriors Programs are taught by Brandi Tronstad in a warm water therapy pool. This swimming instruction provides a safe, low-impact environment that helps children with special needs and individuals recovering from pain or injury improve strength, flexibility, balance, coordination, and overall mobility. The warmth and buoyancy of the water reduce stress on joints and muscles while promoting relaxation, confidence, independence, and overall well-being.

Our Little Riders Program led by Bonnie Burt, a member of the Professional Association of Therapeutic Horsemanship, provides adaptive riding instruction for children with physical and cognitive disabilities. Designed to enhance balance, strength, coordination, and overall confidence, the program offers a supportive and enriching environment where children can develop valuable life skills through horseback riding. With two dedicated instructors, lessons are offered three to four days each week, allowing participants to experience the joy, independence, and sense of accomplishment that riding can provide.

Annually, Jack's Helping Hand sponsors Camp Reach for the Stars at Camp Yeager in Cambria, where children with cancer and their families enjoy a wonderful camping experience together, with food, beverages, music, games, crafts, and a variety of fun activities. This year, our families were entertained and cared for by approximately 50 volunteers. We intend to ensure that this wonderful family tradition continues in the future.
